

The City of Albuquerque Transit Department invites you to participate in community workshops on the Central Corridor Rapid Transit Project. This exciting project is developing plans to implement light rail (LRT) or bus rapid transit (BRT) that will operate within the Central Avenue Corridor. The transit system will be similar to those operating in other western cities like Denver, Salt Lake City, Dallas, Houston, and Los Angeles and will benefit all of Albuquerque's residents and visitors. For more information about the RTP project, please visit our project website at www.ABQ RTP.com.

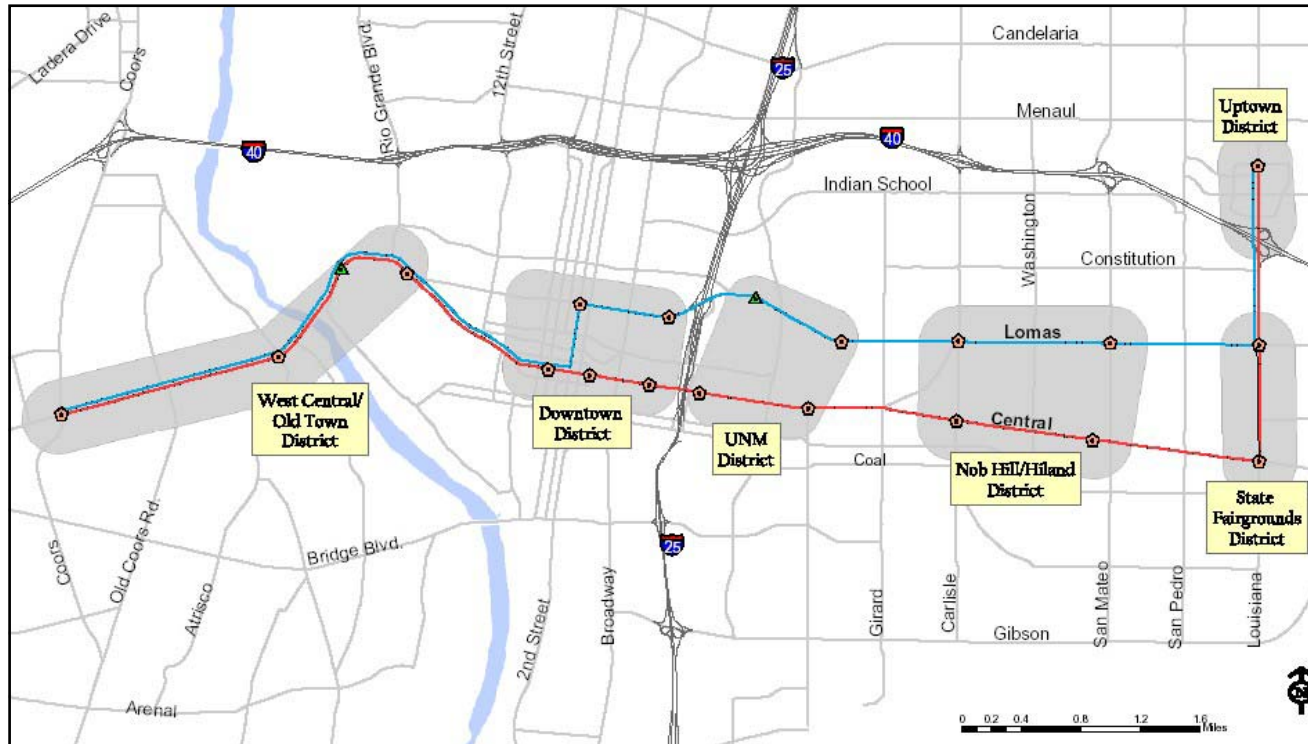

The purpose of the workshops is to partner with area businesses, property owners, and residents to guide new development around future rapid transit stations. The plans resulting from the workshops will be part of the City's application to the Federal Transit Administration for federal construction funds.

At the workshops you'll have the opportunity to:

- Learn about the Rapid Transit Project and transit-oriented design.
- Identify how you would like areas surrounding transit stations to be developed.
- Interact with transit and planning experts as well as other people from your community.
- Use an innovative computer model to see the impact of different development choices on jobs, housing, travel patterns, air quality, transit use, and other factors.

We encourage you to participate in the workshop for the area in which you live, work, and have an interest, as shown on the map.

Snacks and refreshments will be provided. We look forward to seeing you in May!
